

Designing a Commemorative VE Day Cup

People often buy cups as a way to remember a significant event in time. I have one from the Queen's Silver Jubilee which was bought for me when I was a baby and one from the Golden Jubilee when I was teaching at West End (some of your mums and dads might make me feel old and have that one too!)

Here are some examples of cups that have been made for different events.

Can you design a cup to commemorate 75 years since VE Day?

Think about what you might need to include:

- Dates
- Flags
- Significant people/building/events
- A slogan

Good luck with your design (there is a template below which you might like to use)
